Dear Ms. Wolfgang,

I have been told that the following changes have been proposed for massage therapy licensure...

application fee for initial massage therapy licensure from $65 to $100 approval of a continuing education program from $65 to $100

biennial renewal fee from $75 to $200

The information came from my fb massage therapist group, so I apologize if it is incorrect. I could find no announcement on the PA website.

I understand the initial cost increases, and there are some administrative costs associated with setting up any endeavor and reviewing and verifying initial information.

I seriously disagree with the cost increase for renewal, which is submitted and paid for online by the therapist, in addition to the cost of financing our continuing ed.

Live better,
