To Whom It May Concern,

Please reconsider the enormous fee increase slated for this year. While I can understand needing to increase the renewal fee by something, I feel that increasing it by a little more than 133% is more than a lot of therapists can handle. For many, myself included, continuing education and licensing has made me seriously consider whether it is worth renewing year after year. I have been a therapist for almost 10 years and would hate to stop what I love doing just because the fees I need to pay to continue doing my job have gotten more expensive than I can handle.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter,

Aimee Muzzy
