As working therapist here in PA I do not agree with the fee increase. While massage therapy is a lucrative career once in the right establishment, it takes a while to get there. It takes a while to build a name in this business and coupled with the difficulty of trying to obtain and sustain revolving door clientele. Stability in this career is never certain even if you do find a stable place to work. Renting space also can be expensive if a therapist has his or her own business. We expell more cost than we take in if you take in account all the things we have to pay just to operate ie classes, insurance, renewal, space rental, products, maintenance, and travel just to name a few. So I ask that the state considers all of these factors before raising the fee. I say NO to the proposal of a fee increase.
