Im writing to express my opposition (and concern) of the proposed fee increase for massage therapy licensing. As a practicing massage therapist in Pennsylvania for the last decade, licensed for as long as the state has required it, I have never supported licensure for my work and find the entire guise of licensure for massage therapy work one to line the pockets of employees who have zero interest in actually upholding anything that has to do with massage (practiced professionally or otherwise....and there is STILL a LOT of otherwise type of massage going on in the state!) and the people it serves. The last thing I'm interested in is paying more money for a piece of paper that really doesn't separate me from anyone else who wants to practice massage in Pennsylvania.
