To whom it may concern...

I am writing to 'voice my opinion,' if you will, about the possible license fee increase for Massage Therapy. I feel very strongly that the health field workers AND the public in general has just now started coming around and recognizing/realizing how beneficial Massage Therapy is to people of all ages. However, if the increase takes place, I feel that less and less people would be willing to forgo Massage Therapy as a career choice, which in turn would not be available to any interested or past client to receive the health benefits of the therapy. As a MT of 15 years, this already has me scratching my head as to whether or not it would be worth practicing IF the fee increases. I also feel that the amount of money it costs to take Continuing Ed. class is absolutely ridiculous! Thank you for giving us the opportunity to submit our opinion.
