To whom it may concern,

I have been practicing massage for 12 years. When the regulations to get licensed went into place we all happily signed on. You are proposing to increase over 100% which if I did that to any client they would adjust their massages and it would not be as beneficial. To add up everything we put out money wise to stay active licensed massage therapists adds up quickly. Eventually it won't be cost effective to bring all these wonderful gifts to the world. In the work world if you are doing an amazing job you can max out at 10% increase. How is it fair to ask for ten times that? I hope you take us all into consideration and let us continue to bring our talents to show the world.

Thank you,
-Valerie
