Please do not put more stress on PA farmers. The ag economy is not something that is booming right now. It is also not fair to charge only cafo farms. We need to look at other ways to generate income to farms if you are going to keep charging more fees to cafos that are following rules already. Farms should be getting credit for capturing rain run off if they have terraces and waterways. Especially if they are following there conservation plan. Our farm sits right next to a big development and filters millions of gallons of rain run off. What do we get for it MORE FEES. Please use common sense and understand that farms can't be taken advantage of any more then they already are. Don't raise fees for farms that are following the rules already.
