I am not in favor of Pennsylvania joining RGGI.

While too much scientific controversy exists on the subject of climate change, there is NO question about the devastating impacts RGGI will have on hundreds of workers and ALL families living in Indiana County.

Besides, coal power plants are cleaner than ever, filtering out 90 percent of mercury and 99.8 percent of soot.

If you really cared about the environment, youare would deal with the immense problems with plastic pollutants!! Plastic poisons water, soil, and human health.
