Once again, Gov. Wolf is demonstrating that he is not concerned with the economy of the state of Pennsylvania or the financial wellbeing of its citizens. His unilateral decision to join the RGGI ignores the voices of those who will be impacted by his decision. Once executed, the act will take a long and tedious process to unravel once the voting public becomes aware of what he has done.

It seems quite apparent that he is setting himself up for a comfortable position when his tenure concludes.

Best regards,
