I am 100 percent against the RGGI bill that governor Wolf is trying to push through with executive order instead of letting pass through due process in the legislature of the state government. I believe everything must in almost all cases go through checks and balances we hold elections so that everyone gets a voice and when higher ranking officials try to go around due process just as in this case its a major overstep. On top of that I do not believe that this bill will do anything but run business out of PA and raise electric and utility bills on residents of the commonwealth. This could be catastrophic for the economy in the state which is in poor shape right now as it is with the pandemic and other factors that are playing out with the election. We need stability not more uncertainty in a time of panic ad fear all this would do is add more reason for businesses to not invest in the state which means less jobs we dont need that at all.
