Good morning: our State Senator, Joe Pittman, encouraged constituents to comment on the RGGI. So here I am, submitting a comment. The fossil fuel industry isn't the future for Indiana County or Pennsylvania. I strongly encourage Pennsylvania to continue development and partnerships within the RGGI to force corporations to end the mercilessly destruction of our planet through more aggressive development and discovery of fossil fuels, all the while fighting important regulatory measures to reduce impact on our local communities. Corporations will not do it themselves, ergo our government agencies must step in to safeguard the future for all Pennsylvanians. Joe Pittman won't listen to a vocal minority of his community members, so I speak here: I strongly support the RGGI and any actions to curtail fossil fuel damage to our region.

Thank you,

Zach Clark
