To whom it may concern,

I am opposed to joining any group or initiative that increases regulations. Water vapor is a much better greenhouse gas than carbon dioxide. Plants need carbon dioxide to grow. The environment adapted to conditions when there were no fossil fuels and all the carbon dioxide now trapped in fossil fuels was in the atmosphere. If we had a free press everyone would know that the whole climate change is a hoax. If the planet warms up we can use the land near the poles to grow crops and live on. If it cools down we need all the greenhouse effect we can get to prevent food shortages. Before you vote for any new climate regulations you should read: Inconvenient Facts: The science that Al Gore doesn't want you to know by Gregory Wrightstone
