While I applaud the intention of this proposed action, I feel it will do very little to impact much more than the pocketbooks of the citizens of this state at a point in time in which things are already quite dire.

I urge the focus to move away from penalizing the citizenry through increased costs and instead put forth efforts to support the development of better technology that can still utilize the abundance of resources available to us.

The simple fact is you can't pay your way to fewer carbon emissions. They will still exist. Vote NO on this ridiculous idea.
