I fully support the initiative and I believe it is a responsible and long overdue action. Steps must be taken to begin to address the environmental impact of businesses. As always, the Republican leadership, including the senator and representative from my district, are stirring up the citizens with dire predictions of lost jobs, and increased taxes and consumer costs. None of them ever address the real costs-monetary and health- to all due to environmental pollution. I do believe that climate change is an extant threat to all of us, and I do believe that businesses can move forward and create other new viable entities and jobs with a different dichotomy.
