Dear Ms. Molchanow,

Preparing our youth to be well rounded citizens in our 21 century is a daunting task. Determining how to best provide a curriculum that attempts to accomplish such a task is challenging.

It is my understanding the new proposed standards do not explicitly include Environment, Ecology and Agriculture as performance expectations. These three topics are critical in ensuring that Pennsylvania students are informed citizens and are prepared for the challenges and opportunities of the 21st century economy. The new standards will likely be in place for several years, leaving these critical topics out of student's education could well result in a deficit of valuable learning.

Please ensure Environment, Ecology, and Agriculture standards are not lost. Thank you for all your efforts to support meaningful learning for students across the Commonwealth.
