FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

IRRC Reminds Citizens, Media of Availability of Informational Videos Explaining Pennsylvania's Regulatory Review Process

Harrisburg, PA (September 2, 2026)

With recent rulemakings leading to an increased interest in the rulemaking process, the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (Commission) is reminding all Pennsylvanians that a series of videos explaining the regulatory review process is posted on the Commission's website. These videos can be found under the "Videos" tab on the Commission's website: https://www.irrc.state.pa.us/videos/videos.cfm

Pennsylvania's General Assembly created the Commission in 1982 to provide an effective and independent review of Pennsylvania rulemakings. To ensure that the regulatory review process is understandable and accessible to everyone, the Commission has developed informational materials on the rulemaking process, including a four-part video series.

The informational videos feature segments detailing:

- An Introduction to the Regulatory Review Process;
- The Proposed Stage of the Regulatory Review Process;
- Development of a Final Regulation; and
- Public Involvement in the Regulatory Review Process.

Pennsylvania's regulatory review process is among the most thorough in the nation and plays a critical role in ensuring that Pennsylvania's regulations are in the public interest. In sharing these videos, the Commission hopes that this information affords everyone interested in Commonwealth regulations with the opportunity to develop a greater understanding of the regulatory review process and learn how to become involved effectively.
