Re: Final-Omitted Rulemaking; Regulation #61-15 (IRRC #3465), State Civil Service Commission, 4 Pa. Code Chapter 91, 99, & 105

Dear Commission Members,

The State Civil Service Commission's use of final-omitted rulemaking to amend Title 4 Pa. Code Chapters 91, 99, and 105 to rescind obsolete sections is appropriate.

The Commission's decision to proceed through the final-omitted rulemaking process is appropriate and consistent with its responsibilities and I support removing regulations that are no longer active, as it promotes a more efficient and relevant regulatory framework for the constituents of the Commonwealth.

Removing obsolete regulations improves clarity for regulated entities and the public and ensures that the Commonwealth's regulations remain current. This kind of regulatory housekeeping strengthens confidence in the rulemaking process and supports the effective functioning of government.

I am glad to see the Commission's action in reviewing their regulations and taking appropriate action and appreciate the effort to eliminate outdated provisions.

Sincerely,
